Nov 6	—	Calcmerge.com	Attendance — Date: November 6, 2026 Subject: Update on CalcMerge — Expansion to 37 Tools Executive Summary I have successfully completed a major content and functionality expansion for CalcMerge (calcmerge.com), scaling the platform's utility offerings from 18 to 37 tools. Following research into industry-leading calculator platforms like GigaCalculator, I identified and integrated high-demand utility tools across multiple categories to drive user engagement and broaden the site's utility scope. Key Highlights & Additions Total Tool Growth: Expanded the tool directory from 18 to 37 fully responsive tools. New Categories & Tools Added: Finance: Compound Interest Calculator, VAT Calculator (Add/Remove), Profit Margin, and ROI calculators. Health & Wellness: Calorie Calculator (BMR, weight targets), Sleep Calculator, Water Intake, and Ideal Weight calculators. Education & Statistics: Grade Calculator (weighted scores/finals), Average (mean, median, mode), and Standard Deviation tools. Utilities & Everyday: Date & Business Days Calculator, Fuel Cost, Running Pace, Download Time, Number Base Converter, and Roman Numerals converter. Quality Assurance & Performance: All newly introduced tools have passed comprehensive logic validation against standard benchmark calculations. Rigorous browser checks were conducted across all new routes to ensure a frictionless, error-free user experience with zero console warnings. Next Steps Finalizing custom icon integration for the new tool entries. Monitoring performance metrics following the rollout of the second batch of utilities. Please let me know if you would like to review the staging deployment or discuss the roadmap for the next feature batch. (Oluwatobi)	Open	0.0
Nov 6	—	Allpetlofts	Attendance — Project Update: Dog Breed Library Expansion to 50 Breeds I wanted to share a quick update on the ongoing work for allpetlofts.com. I have successfully completed a major expansion of the dog breed database, taking the library from 30 to 50 fully profiled breeds with comprehensive history, care guidelines, feeding requirements, and health notes. Key Highlights of the Recent Update: Library Expansion: Added 20 new popular and specialized breeds across multiple batches (bringing the total to 50 complete profiles with matching quick-facts data). Improved Filter Variety: Filled crucial gaps across categories—including adding more options to the Terrier and Hound groups, as well as warm-weather-friendly breeds suited for our regional audience. Complete Breed Profiles: Each added breed features a full breakdown covering: Origin and historical background Physical appearance and temperament Specific exercise and care routines Tailored feeding advice (including bloat precautions for deep-chested breeds) Health considerations and common breed concerns Seamless UI Integration: The homepage statistics, group filters (breedService.js), and navigation update automatically to reflect the full 50-breed library without disrupting the user interface. Recommended Next Steps: Vet Review: As standard protocol, all new profiles currently ship with vetReviewed: false until a licensed veterinarian signs off on the health and dietary sections. Next Phase: We can now proceed either with setting up the Cats section or moving forward with the general polish pass (working search functionality, tab titles, and	Open	0.0
